

School of Social Work Theory and Practice

@IUC.Dubrovnik

Breaking the ICE

The Inter-COVID Edition of Social Work in Dubrovnik

After an intermission of 2020 we are resuming with social work events in Dubrovnik Inter-University Centre.

For this year, for these reasons, we will stage more of a conference (rather than courses as we usually do).

The main topics of this gathering – transversing the usual topics will be:

- Anti-colonialist paradigm of social work
- Corona, authoritarianism and digital rights
- Self-organisation beyond representative democracy

The format of the conference will ensure a mix of plenary lectures and panels, parallel symposia and workshops and the conference assemblies. For those, who will not be able to travel there will be daily on-line sessions and some streaming of chosen events.

There will be pre—and post-conference events – organised by courses or other initiatives.

The conference will start on Monday evening of 6th September with a welcome assembly and will take place intensely on following three days 7th to 9th September, with some optional events on Friday.

Regular topics of the courses are: Social work theories and methods, Social work and Social Policy, Working with Children and Families, Children in Conflict with Law, Community Work, Old Age, Spirituality, Deinstitutionalisation.

Inquiries and information: at dialogueinpraxis@fsd.uni-lj.si

Detailed programme and announcement will follow ... soon!

Put the dates in your diary.

Programme committee (Course directors)

Vito Flaker, University of Ljubljana; Miroslav Brkić, University of Belgrade, Serbia; Janet Carter Anand, University of Eastern Finland, Kuopio, Finland; Steve Case, Social and Policy Studies Unit, Loughborough University, UK; Vlado Dimovski, Faculty of Economics, University of Ljubljana, Slovenia; Marsida Grami, University of Tirana; Vera Grebenc, University of Ljubljana; Sabina Hadžibulić, Uppsala University, Sweden; Paul de Heer, HAN-University, Netherlands; David Kergel, University of Oldenburg, Germany; Ronald Lutz, University of Applied Sciences Erfurt, Germany; Jim Mandiberg, Hunter College, New York, USA; Jana Mali, University of Ljubljana; Michaela Moser, University of Applied Sciences St. Poelten, Austria; Ksenija Napan, Massey University, New Zealand; Mari Nordstrand, Sør-Trøndelag University College, Trondheim, Norway; Andreja Rafaelič, Institute for Social Care of Slovenia and University of Ljubljana; Shula Ramon, University of Hertfordshire, England; Branka Rešetar, University of Osijek; Linda Rothman, HAN-University, Netherlands; Nina Schjøll Skjefstad, Sør-Trøndelag University College, Trondheim, Norway; Djuka Stakic, Penn State University, USA; Torill Tjelflaa, formerly NTNU Social Research, Norway; England. Paul Stubbs, Institute of Economics, Zagreb; Ana Štambuk, University of Zagreb, Croatia; Lorenzo Toresini, formerly Centre for Research in Mental Health Merano, Italy; Joe Yates, Liverpool John Moores University; Nino Žganec, University of Zagreb.

Organising committee:

Vito Flaker; Lea Lebar; Jana Mali, University of Ljubljana; Katarina Ficko, Andreja Rafaelič, Institute for Social Care of Slovenia, Gordana Horvat and Suzana Tomašević, University of Osijek.